Austria Adheres to Grey's Proposal.Turks Announce Autonomy for Albania-Balkan Allies Kind to Turkey.

(By Times Special Cable)

London, Dec. 5.—The dispute between Austria-Hungary and Servia, arising out of the Balkan war, which has threatened a general European conflict, will have to be settled into a safe channel and the peace of Europe will be maintained, if, announced to-day, Servia has definitely decided to leave her case in the hands of the Balkan allies.

The proposal of Sir Edward Grey, British Foreign Secretary, to call a meeting of the Ambassadorial clearing house has now received practically unanimous welcome.

There seems to be a general disposition to give up the Balkan complications from the between Turkey and the Balkan

AUSTRIA ACCEPTS PLAN.

Budapest, Hungary, Dec. 5.—The Aus-trio-Hungarian Government has accorded to the principle to the proposed conference of Ambassadors of the great European powers on the Balkan situation to be held in London today.

AUTOMOBILE FOR ALBANIA.

Constantinople, Dec. 5.—The Turkish Council of Ministers has prepared a scheme of autonomous government for the Balkan allies, which will be submitted to the Conference of Ambassadors in London to-morrow.The proposal to hold in London the negotiations for peace between Turkey and the Balkan allies, which the Turkish Government, which besides desiring that they should be held on neutral ground, has also the advantage of the advice of Sir Edward Grey, the British Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs.

TURKEY WILL HAVE ARMISTICE.

London, Dec. 5.—An armistice between Greece and Turkey is to be concluded in a day or two, according to a news agency despatch from Constantinople.

in Bank Building.Was Arrested and Held On Suspicion of Charge.A bank robbery in the Bank of Hamilton building yesterday afternoon caused considerable excitement and caused wild reports to spread. The man who caused all the trouble was a young German, about 25 years of age,
and it was given as his address 186 King street north.Goodman had been employed in the building by an insurance company and as on the way into the office where he was most likely to be found, he was assaulted and violence was committed when he entered one of the offices and ran attacking him. The attention of some men, who went to his aid. On seeing the men Goodman ran out of the office and along the halls and then started to go higher up the building. He was followed the whole building was aware of fact that a crazy man was at large and he was followed up the stairs and the large crowd soon attracted the attention of the traffic of the street.Many men, P. C. Patel went into the building. When Goodman heard the police were after him he quietly sat down in a chair and the p face immobile. The officer found him on the third floor, however, and he was taken into custody to resist arrest and was taken to Central Station, where a charge of robbery was laid against him by P.A charge was to have been heard this morning, but the man
was not during the time necessary to hold him for trial, he will be in the meantime, he will be as to his mental condition.

Greater Hamilton Association Has Passed Out."Greater Hamilton" as an association for booming the city, is a thing of the past.The executive recently and unanimously voted to disband the small cash surplus in the bank, it was decided, should be handed over to the Hamilton Improvement Committee.

The association, as the Greater Hamilton Association, had been remembered, aboutthree or four years ago, on its first anniversary, when it was decided to disband.Some people laughed when big streamers appeared bearing the word. Buta good deal, when Big Ben tolls out 1912 Hamilton will have a 100,000 city,
or thereabouts.

Pool Room.

(Special to the Times)

Kanaplo, B.C., Dec. 5.—The preliminary hearing of the murder charge against Rev. Fleak, the former young Hamilton man, and his companion, Law, was concluded yesterday, but the accused went into the witness box on their own behalf. They were examined and cross-examined, not only on the night of the murder, but that day, and the days before and after.

The two charges of forgery against A.

Christie and Christie Chalmers will be first settled. It is not expected that it will be necessary to devote more than half an hour to these cases. Three appetite cases will be heard, including one involving a woman found guilty by a woman of her worship of keeping a disorderly house, will occupy the attention of the court for some time.

PASTOR ON TRIAL

Charged With Murder of His Wife's Father.

(By Times Special Wire)

Houston, Tex., Dec. 5.—The trial of Augustus Jacobson, accused of the murder of Rev. Charles N.

Emelius, Mrs. Mary Jacobson and her son, Elgar

Jacobson, whose trial for the alleged murder of his wife's father, was held in the County Supreme Court, to-day.

"We will claim that it was physically possible for Jacobson to have ended his own life," said counsel for the defendant.

The death of Jacobson, who was a man of Nevers, Illinois, occurred in that town on June 12, 1911, and the doctor's certificate that it was a case of suicide, the body was buried. Late the body was exhumed and the

and afterwards indications were against Charles N. Emelius,

who was pastor of a Lutheran church

the dead man and Edgar Jacobson.

Emelius married a daughter of Jacobson

after the latter's death.

Gets Results.A little liner placed in the Times for anything lost or found pays, and this is best proven by those who have taken advantage of a reliable paper like the Times to recover lost articles or to return those found. For instance, a resident of the east end of the city lost a gold ring the other night, the way the
to the opera, and, naturally, he inserted the following little advertisement in the City Clerk Kant to-day criticized and condemned the agitation for a lower tax rate next year. He believes, like Mayor Lee, that the city should pay cash for petty work, and should not load the people up with money-eating debts for permanent improvements, and he further believes that it is the tax rate which

TYPHOID FEVER.

Dr. Alan J. McLaughlin, passed away on Thursday, December 5, 1912, at the age of 75 years. He was a surgeon in the United States Public Health Service, the author of the Association of Life Insurance Presidents in New York, to-day, gave an address on typhoid fever and water pollution, which was well received by the passing audience. "For those typhoid fever cases, Dr. McLaughlin, 'the number of cases each year preventable by methods within our grasp would probably reach 175,000, and the deaths - 100,000 would total 16,200. In 1900 there were more cases of typhoid fever in the United States than there were cases of plague. In spite of the fact that our population is two and one-half times that of the United States, the annual 35,000 deaths from typhoid fever do not represent our total losses. As a conservative estimate they are accompanied by a quarter of a million cases of the disease each year. These cases represent an average illness for each individual of four weeks, and probably six or eight weeks ended abnormally with any gainful occupation. The economic loss in killing and computing the value of the lives lost to the community, the cost of medical attendants and hospital-care, would reach a sum of not less than $100,000,000 annually." In deciding that much of the typhoid fever in the States is preventable, Dr. McLaughlin compared the death rate from disease in different large Northern cities with that of the fewest of the largest American cities in 1910, as follows: European cities: Edinburgh 1.3 per 100,000; Munich 1.4; Stockholm 1.8; Dresden 2.2; Antwerp, 2.3; Berlin, 2.9; London, 3.3; Copenhagen, 3.6; Vienna, 3.8; Liverpool, 3.9; Belfast, 3.9; Birmingham, 4.1; Hamburg, 4.1; Lyons, 4.4; Paris, 4.6; American cities: Cincinnati 8.3 per 100,000; New York, 11.5; New York, 11.5; St. Louis, 14.5; Philadelphia, 15.7; Cleveland, 17.9; Buffalo, 20.0; Detroit, 23.0; Washington, 23.2; Pittsburgh, 27.5; Milwaukee, 45.7; Minneapolis, 58.7. No single measure in reducing typhoid fever on a large scale approaches the effect of substituting a safe water supply." The author said, "An instance of the remarkable saving of human life the reduction of typhoid fever in Pittsburgh may be cited. Since the installation of the filter plants there has been an annual saving in the City of Pittsburgh of 400 lives from typhoid fever alone." The death rate fell from 140 in 1900 - less than 30, in 1910, owing to the water being filtered.

The lesson here taught is the necessity for complete purification of the drinking water. Probably the greatest single cause of a poor effluent from filter plants is inefficient operation by unskilled men. It is absolutely essential for good results that bacteriological examination, including B. coli estimation, be made at least once daily, and in slow moving streams, and, if necessary, twice daily. The water should be tested for typhoid fever, and if any is found, it should be treated with chlorine.

The employment and use of Thiel men as protectors of the public peace needs to be investigated.

There will be no redistribution till this year. Mr. McLaughlin will put it off until a more convenient season.

The municipal vote is asked for married women. But Mr. Hanes is doubtful if they can be trusted. Perhaps he thinks they are our friends, the feminists.

"None in our city day by day, harbored such conditions of view as we are in our highest social circles at the present time," declared Bishop A. W. Wilson, of the Methodist Episcopal Church South. Surely it cannot be as bad as all that. We had an idea that the world was growing better.

The Times has received a letter from H. J. P. Good, Secretary of the Committee for the Wolfe monument fund, containing a list of subscriptions from residents of other cities, and asking, "Is Hamilton doing?" We confess we have not made up our minds to what extent we should go for subscriptions to the fund, but we do not know with what the fund is intended to be used.

After dinner speakers often told the achievements of Gen. Wolfe at Quebec, and our school books place a hero's halo on his brow. But giving money for a monument to him is another story, it seems.

They have a head tax down in New Brunswick. As a protest against paying the $750 head tax for persons from outside posts working in St. John, about thirty employees of the John S. Metcalf Co. Limited, stopped work Saturday to demand the leave of the city. The head tax is not an outrage and they are already paying taxes in their home towns. Looks like protection run mad if the tax is intended to protect the native working man.

The furniture manufacturers of the New England States, of Pennsylvania, Michigan, Illinois, Alabama, Georgia, Virginia, North and South Carolina, and other States met in Charlotte, N.C., the other day and resolved to increase the price of their products ten per cent. to the retailers. Increase in price of the furniture is given as a reason for the tax.

The New York Sun is now increasing open street cars for the winter as being more money than the closed cars, while it terms "pneumonia cars," "humpback," it says, "is caused more frequently by heat in winter dwellings than by cold air in the streets, and it would be most appropriate to designate the closed cars as 'pneumonia cars' in the open cars as an automatic. Perhaps the car company might try out a few open cars when the mercury begins to drop.

In seventeen States of the Union there were 88 persons killed and 33 injured in typhoid fever cases in 1911, and in 1910 there were 100 killed and 37 injured. In 1910, this death rate was 1.0 per 100,000 population. The death rate of 1.0 per 100,000 population is appalling, 24 persons having been killed and over 1,000 cases of typhoid fever.

Efficient plant, capable workmen and intelligent supervision, inspection and analysis are necessary before a supply of clean water is assured. This means money, but it means the saving of life.

SIR WILFRID LAURIER.

The other day the Hamilton Spectator referred to Sir Wilfrid Laurier as a "separatist leader" and yesterday it spoke of him as a "French Canadian leader." Sir Wilfrid has, in many instances, both in Canada and in Britain, declared his loyalty to the empire and to the British throne. He is more British in some respects than are the English-speaking Canadians. "British way, British literature and British statement have been the chief influences in his life," he said. "The study of English literature, and his use of pure and unaffected English is the result. His political beliefs are modeled after those of men like Gladstone and Bright and in his public speeches his illustrations and examples are almost always taken from British statesmen or British customs. He seldom quotes United States statesmen, or United States literature. So British is he that in the Canadian Parliament he is a sharp student of English literature, and his use of pure and unaffected English is the result. His political beliefs are modeled after those of men like Gladstone and Bright and in his public speeches his illustrations and examples are almost always taken from British statesmen or British customs.

He seldom quotes United States statesmen, or United States literature. So British is he that in the Canadian Parliament he is a sharp student of English literature, and his use of pure and unaffected English is the result. His political beliefs are modeled after those of men like Gladstone and Bright and in his public speeches his illustrations and examples are almost always taken from British statesmen or British customs.

He is a good man, but he is not a separatist, but it suits its purpose to say so. The man who gave Britain a preference in Canadian markets and sent Canadian troops to the Boer war can hardly be called a separatist.

MARY ELLEN'S WAY

Peripatetic Christmas Presents

Mrs. Boyd was sitting on the floor looking paper cutter. It doesn't match my desk set. And, besides, I have one. There isn't a blinder here I couldn't do with. I'm not a fool, but I can't do with this sort of paper cutter.

"There is no reason whatever," she said to herself, "why I shouldn't send these forth on a second voyage of Christmas cheer. They are everlastings, and I am sure it is much better for them, to be used than to lie stacked up on my shelf. And it is much better for me to make them, than to have and appreciate them around and fix them up than it is to do for something better."

The good girl reflected a while at the mites.

"I could take that safety pocket and emboss it with a picture upon it and send it to Alice. She's going South after Christmas, and travellers are supposed to return only safe pockets."

The good girl sat up and laid it to one side. "I'll never use it if I live to be as old as Methuselah."

"I could take that embossed leather writing tablet with gold and give it to Minnie. A college girl always finds use for such a thing."

She picked up the portfolio, gazed at it tenderly a few minutes, and placed it aside.

"I've got one Barge lion and I don't want two about the house. This is the lion's den. I could send that to Jean for her studio."

And Jack would just love that antique.

WARD 8 MAKES CHOICE OF TWO CANDIDATES

Ald. Merigold and Mr. Gleadow Get Votes of the Meeting.

Platform Adopted and General Discussion of Affairs of Ward.

The members of the Ward 8 Improvement Society held another of their celebrated political feasts in Gopel Hall, whereat the last sentiment of the society—little England, as Controller Allan called it—was voiced in the matter of adding a candidate to the slate.

It was decided to do with as few patriotic measures, none but those showing their membership tickets being admitted.

Chairman Hendriege was in fine trim, and sharp 8 o'clock, he mounted a table and called for order. His words passed from man to man, and in a few minutes the gathering relaxed into a convivial silence.

Barbara Boyd read the minutes of the last meeting, which were adopted, and then the regular entertainment got off to a flying start.

Some analytical mind here came to the conclusion that it was not a regular and special meeting. Opinions differed, and the discussion was carried on for a good many seconds before it was a regular meeting—not that anyone cared very much about it.

The platform which the executive has been working on for some time was then read, and it is as follows:

"That you urge the City Council to require the Local Legislator to make a by-law to prohibit street washing so that the tax will be assessed on the value of the property instead of on the water."

"That you urge the City Council to change the status of the roadway taxation of 1908 so that the revenue of that section will not have to pay the share of the debentures for roadways which have been built out of the general fund."

"That the roads in that section are not in favor of the Hydro and the Hydro is not in favor of the roads."

"That the Controller next took the stand in his own defense, in the language of the court house:

"I am in favor of the Hydro, and I am not fully respecting the grounds for a kick by Crown Pointines, having just across a few feet to the hall."

"Where is our street-roller?"

"I don't know," answered the Controller. "It must be underneath the mud I am in."

"The Controller then sat down and Chairman Hendriege then decided that anyone not in favor of the Hydro was to sit down. Controller Allan next took the stand in his own defense, in the language of the court house:

HAMILTON'S FAVORITE SHOPPING PLACE

Furs Like These May Double in Value by Next Fall

THEN WHY NOT BUY NOW?

It long since has ceased to be a question of whether or not the price of Furs will advance next season. The only question now is: How great will the advance be? It is predicted that in some lines, like Seal, for instance, the increase will be nearly 100 per cent. In other lines the advance will be from 10 per cent. up.

The call to buy now is then not an idle one. Response means economy!

Money spent in Furs is a sound investment, like money placed in diamonds. The shrewd woman will select her furs now, taking advantage of these special prices.

BUSINESS, COMMERCIAL AND FINANCIAL SECTION

Hamilton Market

Thursday, Dec. 5.—The usual Thursday market for this time of the year was in evidence this morning. Business was moderately active, however, and the farmers found difficulty in selling their produce. Christmas beef made its first appearance, although only a small quantity of it was offered, and it went from $10 to $10 per cent. The regular run of beef was plentiful and prices took a tumble. Potatoes ranged a little higher, selling at $1.25 per cwt. bag. Dressers were rather scarce.

MONEY SCARCE; DISCOUNT HARDER

(By Times Special Wire)

London, Dec. 3.—Heavy gold exports and shrinking money supply hardened discount rates to-day.

The stock market was a shade better, on more favorable conditions, but the market was not sufficiently active to check speculative business. Investment stocks were steadily supported, and closed three-tenths of a point higher.

Canadian stocks were also harder. Home rails finished weak.

Prices of American securities reacted in the market, but New York sales caused further recessions. The closing was easy.
